Brokerage Solutions

By working with an Advisor, you can access a wide range of investment products for your brokerage account. Advisors are compensated from the revenue generated from transactions in your brokerage account. Please see the Merrill Best Interest Disclosure Statement. If you work with an MFSA, under our current policies, you will be limited in the types of investment products you can purchase in your brokerage account. Please note that we reserve the right to change our MFSA eligibility policies at any time without notice to you. MFSA's do not receive a portion of the brokerage revenues generated from transactions in your brokerage account as they are compensated differently than an Advisor.

Equity Transactions (Secondary Market)

Includes common stock, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, certain listed preferred stocks and American Depositary Receipts

You will pay a commission that is calculated based on the principal value of the security being purchased or sold and the commission schedule below. The commission is in addition to the purchase price you pay or the sale price you receive for the security. The commission may be discounted and is subject to a minimum charge. You will be charged a minimum commission of $75 or $.04 per share (whichever is greater), subject to a commission cap of 5.00% of the principal value of your transaction. Advisors may receive as compensation a portion of the commissions paid, depending on the amount of any discounting applied by the Advisor.

Principal value (PV) of trade	Maximum commission	Top of tier cumulative PV	Top of tier blended rate
First $1,500	5.00%	$1,500	5.00%
+ Next $3,500	2.25%	$5,000	3.08%
+ Next $15,000	1.75%	$20,000	2.08%
+ Next $30,000	1.50%	$50,000	1.73%
+ Next $50,000	1.00%	$100,000	1.37%
+ Next $400,000	0.75%	$500,000	0.87%
+ PV > $500,000	0.50%	—	—

For example, if you purchase $10,000 of stock ABC, the standard commission is calculated as follows:
 $($1,500 \times 5.00\%) + ($3,500 \times 2.25\%) + ($5,000 \times 1.75\%) = $241.25$.

The maximum commission that can be charged ranges from 0.50% – 5.00%, depending on the principal amount of the transaction. There are indirect fees, such as annual management and other similar fees, that are charged by the manager or sponsor of an exchange-traded fund and of a closed-end fund, as disclosed in the product's prospectus.

Listed Options

Options contracts cleared by the Options Clearing Corporation that are traded on options exchanges

You pay a commission calculated based on the principal value of the transaction and the number of contracts purchased or sold. The commission is in addition to the purchase price you pay or the sale price you receive for the contract. The commission may be discounted and is subject to a minimum charge. Advisors receive as compensation a portion of certain of these fees.

Commissions range from 0.70% – 15.00% of the principal value of the contracts, plus $3.00 – $9.00 per contract. You also pay an additional transaction fee ranging from $0.15 to up to $1,003 per transaction, determined based on the principal value and number of contracts purchased or sold.

Principal range x % of principal + fixed dollar			+	Number of contracts x dollars per contract + fixed dollar
Principal range	% of principal	Fixed dollar		Number of contracts	Dollars per contract	Fixed dollar
$500 or under*	15.00%	$65		1 – 10	$9	$0
$500.01 – $1,500	1.50%	$25		11 – 20	$8	$10
$1,500.01 – $5,000	1.30%	$28		21 – 50	$7	$30
$5,000.01 – $10,000	1.00%	$43		51 – 100	$6	$80
$10,000.01 – $20,000	0.90%	$53		101 – 200	$5	$180
$20,000.01 – $50,000	0.80%	$73		201 – 500	$4	$380
$50,000.01 +	0.70%	$123		501 +	$3	$880

For example, if you purchase 10 option contracts (representing 100 shares per contract) with an options premium of $1.75 per share, the standard commission is calculated as follows: $($1,750 \times 1.30\%) + $28 + (10 \times $9) + $0 = $140.75$.

* You pay a commission equal to the lesser of 15.00% of the principal value of the transaction or $65.

For example, if you purchase a corporate bond with a 5-year maturity for a principal amount of $50,000, the maximum Merrill markup is calculated as follows: $$50,000 \times 1.25\% = \625.00 .

For sales, an amount called a “markdown” is deducted from the security price that you receive. The total markdown that you will pay consists of the Merrill markdown described below and a dealer markdown that BofAS receives if it executes the transaction. The dealer markdown paid to BofAS is typically up to 1.00%.

The Merrill markdown that is charged may be discounted from the maximum Merrill markdown percentage listed below. A portion of the Merrill markdown may be paid to your Advisor depending on the amount of any discounting applied by the Advisor.

* For additional premiums added to contracts that were purchased at Merrill prior to June 1, 2020, first-year commissions, trailing commissions and other charges are based on applicable rates in effect at the time the contract was purchased. For these contracts, the first-year sales commissions received from insurance companies ranged from 0.75% – 5.25%, and the annual trailing commissions range from 0.00% – 1.20%, in each case, depending on the type of annuity.

529 Plans

Merrill offers 529 plans designed for residents of any state (Omnibus 529 plans) and plans that are only available to residents or taxpayers of the sponsoring state (State 529 plans)

The fees you pay or incur vary based on the 529 plan, investment portfolio and unit class you invest in as outlined below. Both Advisors and MFSA's may offer 529 Plans to their clients. A portion of these fees are paid to your Advisor.*

Type of 529 plan	Fees
Merrill Omnibus 529 Plans	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• At Merrill, you purchase a 529 class unit based on your overall assets in a particular Section 529 plan or certain relationship eligibility criteria as disclosed in the account enrollment documentation. For 529 investments of $250,000 or more or if you meet certain relationship eligibility criteria, you will be automatically invested in Class A units without a sales charge. For 529 investments of less than $250,000, you will be automatically invested in Class C units that will convert to Class A units four years from purchase.• For Class A units offered by most Omnibus 529 Plans, you generally will not pay an upfront sales charge. If you work with an Advisor, your Advisor is paid, both at time of purchase and as an annual trailing commission, an amount of between 0.125% to 0.25% of the average account assets invested in Class A units.• For Class C units, you will not pay an upfront sales charge, but your Advisor will receive an annual trailing commission of 0.125% to 1.00% of the average account assets invested in Class C units until the units convert to Class A units, at which time it will decrease to a commission of between 0.125% to 0.25%.• Generally, if within 12 months of the purchase date you redeem any Class A units or Class C units, you will pay a Contingent Deferred Sales Charge (CDSC) in an amount up to 0.25% on Class A units and up to 1.00% on Class C units, which is deducted from the redemption proceeds.
State 529 plans	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• The pricing model available in State 529 plans vary by plan. Based on your investment time horizon and age of your beneficiary, you will purchase a Class A unit or a Class C unit.• For Class A units, you pay an upfront sales charge of up to 5.25%, a portion of which is paid to your Advisor. Your Advisor will also receive an annual trailing commission of up to 0.25% of the average account assets invested in Class A units. The actual amount of the Class A unit sales charge is based on the State 529 plan you select, the size of your investment in the plan, the plan's particular sales charge breakpoint schedule (which lowers the charge based on larger purchases or holdings) and your eligibility for any other discounts or waivers.• For Class C units, you will not pay an upfront sales charge. For Class C units, your Advisor is paid an annual trailing commission between 0.00% and 1.00% of the average account assets invested in Class C units. This trailing commission decreases to a maximum of 0.25% upon conversion to Class A units. In many State 529 plans, Class C units convert to Class A units after a predetermined number of years set by the plan.• If you redeem Class C units within 12 months of the purchase date, you will typically pay a CDSC fee of up to 1.00%.

There are other fees and expenses, such as account maintenance, enrollment or transaction fees and other similar fees, charged by the Section 529 plans that are typically part of the overall expenses of the 529 plan, disclosed in the 529 plan's program document and Merrill 529 Unit Class Disclosure and Terms and Conditions.

* MFSA's may offer 529 plans to their clients but do not receive a portion of the fees associated with a 529 Plan as they are compensated differently than Advisors.

 Certain Omnibus 529 Plans may offer only Class A units and charge an upfront sales charge. Merrill may limit availability of such plans to residents or taxpayers of the plan's sponsoring state. In addition, an Advisor may be paid a portion of any upfront sales charges paid.

Important Information

In the document, references to "Merrill" mean Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated and its affiliates. References to ERISA plan accounts means accounts (other than SEP, SIMPLE and BASIC Accounts) are subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended.

The information contained in this document is provided for informational purposes only and is not meant to replace your close review of the terms and conditions contained in the agreements for the Merrill programs and accounts, the brochures and disclosures relating to the investment advisory programs and investment products, including individual securities. The fee information covered here does not cover all available investment types or solutions or certain fees that apply to securities activities in your account. Additional fees apply when executing transactions in international markets. These fees include local country costs and fees, local broker fees, stamp taxes, markups, markdowns and dealer spread charges in connection with foreign currency exchange conversions. Certain of these fees are included in the execution price for the security as a net price and are not reflected as separate charges on your trade confirmations or account statements. The Merrill Schedule of Miscellaneous Account and Service Fees also has information on other fees and charges relating to your account or account activities.

An MFSA is limited in what he or she can offer you and they are compensated differently than an Advisor. We may expand the list of securities and investment solutions available in an MFSA-serviced Account, without notice to you. If you work with an MFSA, please discuss these limitations with him or her and how it may affect your investment approach.

Merrill offers a broad range of brokerage, investment advisory (including financial planning) and other services. There are important differences between brokerage and investment advisory services, including the type of advice and assistance provided, the fees charged, and the rights and obligations of the parties. It is important to understand the differences, particularly when determining which service or services to select. For more information about these services, the applicable fees and their differences, speak with your Advisor or MFSA, as the case may be, or reference the Client Relationship Summary \(Form CRS\) and the Summary of Programs and Services at ml.com/relationships. Our CRS provides more information about our obligations to you.

For information about our brokerage services and fees, see our Best Interest Disclosure Statement.

Before enrolling in IAP or SPA, you should review the applicable program ADV Brochure. These disclosures, available at ml.com/relationships, provide more information about the capabilities, qualifications and compensation of our financial advisors, as well as conflicts of interest and other matters.

The way we make money from the purchase and sales of investment products, among other things, creates a conflict of interest associated with any recommendation of your financial advisor. Merrill and our financial advisors, as well as our affiliates, benefit from transactions in your account. Financial advisors earn compensation and benefits based on the revenue that Merrill earns from client transactions and/or the fees paid in our investment advisory programs like IAP and SPA. A financial advisor will have a financial interest in charging more for transactions where they have the discretion to do so or recommending transactions that generate higher amounts of revenue for Merrill and compensation or benefit for them, rather than those transactions that generate lower amounts of revenue. In addition, the more trades that you make in your Account, the more we and/or our financial advisors get paid or benefited, creating a financial incentive to recommend transactions in your Account. There is a conflict of interest when your financial advisor recommends an account or program type, a security transaction or investment strategy where it is expected that Merrill will earn greater revenue over another account or program type, security transaction or investment strategy. More information is available in the Best Interest Disclosure Statement and in the ADV brochures for the IAP and SPA programs.

Additional information regarding transaction and other fees

Fees, charges, commissions, other transaction charges, fund sales charges, and the fees and charges for new issue transactions are determined by reference to various schedules and methodologies and pricing arrangements and agreements in effect from time to time and which are subject to change. Fee ranges are provided for informational purposes only. In certain transactions, minimum commission charges will apply. Certain commissions may be discounted by your Advisor at his or her discretion. Individual circumstances will determine commission prices and whether you qualify for any waivers or discounts.

Fixed income transactions. The markup or markdown amount compensates us for executing the transaction. Purchases and sales of fixed income securities may occur in the over-the-counter markets and Merrill may act in a principal capacity (for its own account) in executing your order. The maximum markup/markdown will vary based on various criteria including (1) product type (corporate bonds have higher markups/markdowns than government products); (2) maturity (shorter maturities have lower markups/markdowns); and (3) whether the transaction is a purchase or a sale (purchases have higher markups than markdowns for sales due to the buy and hold nature of fixed income securities). Certain fixed income security features such as call dates may result in lower markups/markdowns than shown in the fixed income schedule. For products priced on a discount basis, including treasury bills, agency discount notes and commercial paper, the markup can be up to 0.20% and there is no markdown. Mortgage-backed securities are subject to the same markups/markdowns as corporate bonds and assessed on the security's average life. Preferred securities are generally traded on stock exchanges where equity commissions will apply. When preferred securities are traded in the over-the-counter markets, they are subject to the maximum markups/markdowns for fixed income securities noted above.

When your transaction is executed in a principal capacity, markups/markdowns are disclosed on client confirmation statements as a total dollar amount and as a percentage of the prevailing market price. Where a trade is executed by Merrill as agent, markups/markdowns are not charged but commissions may be charged and will be disclosed on client confirmation statements. Commissions are subject to the same maximums as the markups/markdowns described above.

Mutual fund arrangements. We have prepared and provided to you a document entitled Mutual Fund Investing, which goes into greater detail on fees and expenses for mutual fund share classes available through us. Fees and expenses in a mutual fund, including the sales charges paid by the fund to Merrill in connection with a purchase of fund shares, reduce the net asset value of the fund and the investment return. Actual sales charges and trails, breakpoints and sales waivers are controlled by each fund's prospectus and vary according to type of strategy and fund. Please refer to each fund's specific prospectus to understand the particular features of each share class. The Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) maintains a Mutual Fund Expense Analyzer tool on its website at www.finra.org/fundanalyzer that may help you in making a decision about which share class is best for you.

Merrill has entered into agreements with various mutual fund families or their service providers to be paid for sub-accounting and other services. Each fund's operating costs include (like other mutual fund expenses) its allocable share of the fees and expenses of these services. These service arrangements generally vary by mutual fund. The sub-accounting service fee is deducted directly from the client's investment in the mutual fund and/or paid by the fund's service providers. In addition, mutual fund sponsors or managers pay Merrill a fee for marketing support services that compensates us for the services we provide to our financial advisors and to third-party mutual fund sponsors and distributors, for ongoing maintenance of information and for due diligence relating to the offering of mutual funds at Merrill.

Alternative Investment arrangements. We or our affiliates have negotiated fee sharing arrangements with managers of certain Alternative Investment funds. Under these arrangements, we or our affiliates receive additional compensation in order to defray certain costs related to administrative, operational, marketing or other services we provide in connection with your investment. The additional compensation is based on portions of the management fees, performance-based compensation and/or other asset-based fees payable by these funds to the fund manager or its affiliates or that are attributable to investments made in the fund through us or our affiliates, including investments made by you. The actual terms of our fee sharing arrangements with fund managers are disclosed in the offering materials of the relevant Alternative Investment fund or feeder fund, subject to confidentiality requirements and other obligations imposed by the fund managers.

Annuities arrangements. Merrill as broker-dealer and our affiliate, Merrill Lynch Life Agency Inc. (MLLA) as general agent, have entered into selling agreements with unaffiliated insurance companies to offer annuities. For annuities purchased in brokerage accounts, MLLA and your Advisor represent the insurance company in connection with the sale of the annuity and provide services to you on behalf of the insurance company. Variable annuities and other registered annuity products are offered by prospectus. The terms and expenses for each annuity (including surrender charges, optional benefit charges and other insurance company expenses) are set out in a contract between you (annuity owner) and the insurance company (annuity issuer). The commissions outlined above are paid to MLLA by the annuity issuer. The annuity issuer includes these charges in the pricing of its products. All annuity contract guarantees, including optional benefits, fixed rates and annuity payout rates, are backed by the claims-paying ability of the annuity issuer. They are not backed by Merrill or its affiliates and neither Merrill nor its affiliates makes any representations or guarantees regarding the claims-paying ability of the annuity issuer.
